

CRADICK RETAIL LLP – COVID-19 & BUSINESS CONTINUITY UPDATE

In common with many businesses Cradick Retail are assessing how we approach “Freedom Day” – 19th July 2021. We are adopting a cautious approach to the latest easing of lockdown and our priority continues to be the health of our colleagues and their families, clients and contacts.

Our Managing Partners have taken the decision that in accordance with the latest guidelines, we will be opening the office to a greater extent and from today our team will be spending more time in the office.

If staff are working from home, they remain contactable and are able to access information they would routinely have been able to, either in the office or whilst working remotely. We have found that whilst staff work from home we have been able to maintain our current level of service with little or no noticeable effect to our clients or contacts.

Our software allows us to video or telephone conference and we can communicate internally via our various messaging systems and as such we continue to discourage visits to the office but if you have to, please do so by appointment if you need to see a particular team member. On visiting the office please make use of the hand sanitisers available and maintain social distancing at all times. Should you wish our member of staff to use a facemask, please feel free to ask them to do so and respect their similar request.

Please do not attend if you feel unwell or have been in contact with anybody in a similar position.

Should you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact any of our staff on their normal numbers.
